Speaking of politics, I remember the experience of H. B. Stanford, who used to be head of the local district highway office. Mr. Stanford had a minor ailment, went to a specialist, and came back and told me the doctor diagnosed it as "politics." I asked him what I should do, and he said, "Stanford, don't be nervous, don't worry—imagine telling this to a guy up in his neck in politics!"

Russia's Berlin Squeeze Play Aims at Control of Germany By JAMES THRASHER

Russia is making a fresh attempt to drive the western Allies out of Berlin. The efforts may seem to take petty and childish forms—the sit-down in the Soviets' British sector radio station, the flimsy excuses for blocking rail and motor traffic, and so on. But the Kremlin clearly isn't playing for petty stakes.

The prize is Germany, and control of Berlin would give the Russians a big advantage. As a city, it hardly seems worth fighting for. It is a symbol, Berlin, in the hands would probably make a deep impression on the German people. For though their Reich and all its glory are gone, and though their capital city is in ruins, Berlin is still Berlin.

The Russian sole occupation of the city might raise the stark question of the "unified" Germany that they are trying to sell. Already there seem to be a lot of prospective buyers. After all, the Germany that voted Hitler to power in a free and democratic election wouldn't fear a dictatorship, would it?—a country with democratic traditions—so long as a new dictatorship would let the Germans feel and act important and treat them no more cruelly than the Nazis did.

Since Berlin is surrounded by the Soviet state, the Russian squeeze play is not hard to work. It comes to a point of driving the western forces out of the city, the Reds could do it with little trouble. Yet the western Allies seem determined to stick it out.

The Russian events are reasons for this. One is the unwillingness to give Russia a clear-cut advantage in her effort to divide and conquer Germany. The joint administration of Berlin has long since become a fiction, in place of four-power control there are two hostile camps, but neither withdrawal would be a surrender to the Soviet desire.

The other reason is that as long as Allied troops and administrators are in Berlin, the Russian efforts to oust them are daily reminders of the Russian desire to repudiate his solemn agreement with the heads of the American and British governments at Potsdam. Those efforts may impress the Germans. But to thinking people of free Europe they are a demonstration of Russian dishonesty.

Even if the Russian program for a western German government is carried out, France, Great Britain and the U.S. would probably keep their forces in Berlin. Their presence would continue to serve notice that it is Russia that forced the setting up of western government, and that the final settlement of Germany's fate is a four-power problem.

Physically it is true, as the Russians say, that the four-power setup in Berlin is senseless from the western standpoint. The western presence in the three nations must be supplied from considerable distance and at much expense. But strategically it is important that the Russians be watched at close range wherever possible. And diplomatically it is important to show that the Potsdam Agreement, whether practical or not, still stands, and that if anybody is going to break it it will be the Soviet government.

Will Russia resort to force and seize Berlin? It seems unlikely. For such a move would be the signal for another world war, with Russia clearly the aggressor. And unless conditions have suddenly changed in the Soviet Union, the Kremlin doesn't want that war—at least not yet.

Hempstead in Good Shape Financially

According to an audit just completed by the Controllers office Hempstead had a net cash balance of $20,115.24 at the close of 1947 and the county is on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Aubrey McCasland, supervisor in charge of audits, commented Judge Fred A. Luck for retiring county indebtedness and placing all accounts under his control on a cash basis.

In comparing the 1947 fiscal year with 1946 the auditors found surplus gained in the amount of $14,647.07. This gain in surplus money represented $11,574.91 in the County General funds and $3,072.16 in the County Road fund.

The auditors were well pleased with the financial condition of Hempstead county.

Fear 14 Dead in Fishing Tragedy

By ROBERT HEWETT

Haifa, Israel, June 30 (AP)—The last British troops left the soil of troubled Palestine today, thus ending 31 years of British military occupation of the Holy Land.

In strict military order, the few remaining soldiers withdrew behind barbed wire barricades to troop ships and landing craft. British planes from an aircraft carrier task force buzzed overhead.

Lt. Gen. Gordon H. A. MacMillan, Britain's last military commander in Palestine, was the last British soldier to leave Palestine in the evacuation which began on May 15.

He stepped aboard the ship's boat at 1:41 p. m. local time, just a few moments after the United Nations flag was hoisted from the harbor.

Original plans called for final evacuation Aug. 1.

In Cairo, Khalid Mardam Bey, Syrian prime minister, told newsmen yesterday that the Arab government had protested to Britain against withdrawal of her troops from Haifa ahead of schedule.

Mardam Bey said Arabs consider this a violation of the Palestinian truce.

A Jewish announcement said the Jewish state would be hoisted on buildings during Haifa harbor and in the municipal area as soon as the last British troops are gone.

As British troops were brought in from their army camps to the dock area, tanks took up positions around the harbor district and a strict curfew was imposed on all civilians.

Col. Joseph Hoffman of Baltimore, Md., headed the group of United Nations truce observers who will supervise the big port during the U. N. truce period.

Ten British commandos and green beret marine commandos filed quietly, in strange contrast to the years of shootings and bombings.

In small groups, the marine commandos marched from their post on Mount Carmel. Then they withdrew from the gates of the port until all that remained under British rule was a small barbed wire enclosure around the entrance of a landing ship through which filed the last British troops.

White-capped Jewish police took over the guard posts as the marines withdrew.

"It's a great day for us — one we've looked forward to for a long time," said Capt. Sucher Spiegel, who served in the British army's Jewish brigade during World War II and now is chief of Haifa port police.

The evacuation illustrated the tenseness of Jewish-British relations in recent years. Although no hostility was shown by the Jews this final day, the British staged a strict military withdrawal. As one group left its gun post it was covered by another.

When the United Nations flag was hoisted on the harbor, MacMillan shook hands with the British consul, C. Marriott. The British commander then stepped aboard a boat which would take him to the British cruiser Phoebe, outside the harbor.

Haifa's Jews delayed celebrating the event until late this afternoon when the new flag of Israel will be run up over the port city.

Marshall Says U. S. Will Deal With Blockade

Washington, June 30 (AP)—Secretary Marshall said today the United States will "deal promptly" with basic questions raised by the Soviet blockade of Berlin. But he gave no hint what action is contemplated.

(In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said the Western Allies are considering a direct approach to the Kremlin in an attempt to settle the Berlin crisis.)

Marshall said in a statement "we intend to stay" in Berlin.

About the time his statement was issued, it was learned the army air force is troubling for the time being, the number of B-29 Superfortresses in Europe. That raises the number to 30.

Marshall said in a brief formal statement that the Russian blockade of the "German civilian population of Berlin raises basic questions of serious import with which we expect to deal promptly."

He said that in the meanwhile maximum use will be made of air transport to supply civilian needs. He added that this can supply a greater tonnage "than had at first been assumed."

(Berlin dispatches say American planes are making about 100 flights daily to Berlin from Western Germany.)

Marshall's statement was read to reporters by Press Officer Lincoln Wade. The secretary is at Walter Reed Hospital for a physical check-up.

The text of the statement: "We are in Berlin as a result of agreements between the governments on the arena of occupation in Germany and we intend to stay. The Soviet attempt to blockade the German civilian population of Berlin raises basic questions of serious import with which we expect to deal promptly."

Meanwhile maximum use of air transport will be made to supply the civilian population. It has been found after study that the tonnage of foodstuffs and supplies which can be lifted by air is greater than had at first been assumed."

Traitor Is Given Life Sentence

Boston, June 30 — 2 — Robert H. Best, the American newspaperman and radio propagandist for the German Nazis for $200 a month, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for treason.

The sentence was imposed by Federal Judge Francis J.W. Ford who also ordered Best to pay a fine of $10,000.

Judge Ford imposed the sentence after hearing T. Vincent Quinn, assistant attorney general of the United States, appeal for imposition of the death penalty.

Best's counsel, Charles W. Bartlett, asked the court for leniency on the ground that Best was "a fanatic, a crusader — doing what he thought best for his country."

Best, himself, read a four-page prepared statement and in addition he extemporaneously told the court that:

"If the people of the United States had followed my advice and impeached the administration in Washington, tens of thousands of Americans would now be alive instead of dead in Europe."

Judge Ford declared that Best "knew what he was doing. When a man intends to betray his country."

Harris Booster Club Formed at Magnolia

Columbia county supporters of Rep. Oren Harris met last night in the Magnolia room of the Magnolia Inn and formed a Booster Club to support his candidacy for re-election.

Dr. Joe Rushton opened the meeting and the group elected the following officers: Richard Samuels, chairman; Dr. Joe Rushton, secretary-treasurer.

"I am gratified by the interest in my campaign for reelection to congress," Harris said, "and with the diversified group of all the walks of life showing interest in the welfare of our government, as was manifested tonight."

The meeting was attended by groups from other counties in the district. A large number of ladies was present and Mrs. Floyd Wilson was appointed chairman of the ladies' division of the organization.

Last British Troops Leave Palestine

Cedar Keys, Fla., June 30 (UP)—Fourteen men and women were feared dead today, two were known killed, and only two survivors could tell of a Sunday morning fishing-boat tragedy.

Coast guardsmen and volunteers were out at dawn today in planes and boats, with the slim hope that some others might have lived through three days and three nights of ordeal in the Gulf of Mexico.

Every bit of driftwood, every tiny patch of sandy key was given intense scrutiny by searchers. For two days there had been no sign of the party of 10 that set out early Sunday for a fishing trip, until yesterday two survivors and the body of a woman were found.

William Sanders, Ocala, Fla., barber, told from a hospital bed the disaster that came as the party was beginning to fish. With out warning, he said, the gas tank exploded and the 38-foot "Hazel" burst into flame from stem to stern. Within 15 minutes the hull had sunk, and there were only a few pieces of wreckage and six life preservers afloat.

L. R. Burnett, owner of the craft, died almost instantly, Sanders said, but the rest of the party jumped into the water right away and stuck together, holding onto bits of wreckage.

Defines City Pauper as a Man Who Doesn't Have a 'Place In the Country'

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—A pauper in the big city can be defined as a man who doesn't have "a place in the country."

If that's the only hallmark of poverty, I'm the happiest pauper alive. For nothing makes me feel richer than to talk with a metropolitan cave dweller who has tried to get away from it all by buying a small plot of land away from it all.

I never shared the delusion of these would-be farmers in the dell that a city man can thumb his nose at mother nature for nine months of the year and expect her to clasp him to her bosom the other three. She isn't going to forgive him; she's going to give him the works.

But this yen to currycomb one of God's acres far from the mad-densities thronging his city's pent-up millions like an epidemic each summer.

A man who has spent the rest of the year trying to huddle the high cost of living will plod to the bank with tears in his eyes to borrow a down payment on "a place in the country."

But they are happy tears. He thinks the bucolic breezes will blow for him and the kids. And he figures that he can hoe down the feed costs by spading up some garden vegetables for the table.

The awakening comes only too swiftly. He finds that the farmer who buys the Brooklyn bridge is no bigger sucker than the city fellow who believes the technicolor pictures on the seed catalogs. Each carried he raises, what with big spray, fertilizer and garden tools priced as if they were gold-plated, costs him about four bits.

He wears out himself and his pocketbook commuting to his job in the city. He has to taxi to the night baseball games on the radio. Then I give them a copy of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and go away silently.

The good earth can be awful bad for a stranger to the land. I'd move to a man without the country.

Graves Home From Church Conference

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Graves returned home last night from San Antonio, Texas, where Mr. Graves as a delegate from the Little Rock conference attended the South Central Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist church, comprising eight states: Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Mr. Graves reported that Bishop Paul E. Martin of Little Rock was returned to the Arkansas-Louisiana area, and the conference elected one new bishop, Dr. Dana Dawson of Shreveport, owing to the retirement of Bishop Charles C. Seelman of Dallas. Bishop W. C. Martin of the Kansas-Nebraska district was sent to the Texas district (Dallas-Ft. Worth area), and the new bishop, Dr. Dawson, went to the Kansas-Nebraska area.

Mr. Graves, lay leader in Hope's First Methodist church, had previously been elected a delegate to the quadrennial conference in Boston but was prevented by illness from attending that international meeting.

Allied Planes Transport Food Into Berlin

Berlin, June 30 (AP)—A huge Allied air convoy of more than 200 planes came to the rescue today of isolated Berlin.

The crisis over the land blockade of the city by the Russians remained unsolved, but there were signs it was headed for consideration at the highest levels.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons the Western allies were considering a direct approach to the Kremlin.

In Washington Secretary of State Marshall expressed U. S. determination to stay in Berlin regardless of the Soviet blockade. Bevin made a similar statement, adding that Britain was ready for four-power talks on Berlin—but not until the Soviet blockade is lifted.

In that connection a British officer in Hamburg said the Russians have halted movement of barges along the Elbe river. This was an apparent addition of a water blockade, since previously the Russians had permitted barges to filter through to the land-locked city.

The Royal Airforce, joining the Americans in the greatest airlift of peacetime, flew 100 transport planes into Berlin today. The promise to double the number by the end of the week.

The U. S. Airforce had sent 125 planes by late afternoon and more were on the way.

Tension in the city was high. This was proved even today when a lone Russian barrage balloon used for artillery range spotting raised a false scare on the food ferry line.

Red Barrage of Berlin False Scare

Berlin, June 30 (AP)—One tired old barrage balloon raised a false scare today that the Russians were putting up a new obstacle to the aerial food ferry route into Soviet-blockaded Berlin.

Excited U. S. Air Force officials, suspecting a threat to the air lifeline to Berlin, found a supposed mass of obstacles was just an old balloon that has flown a long time over the corridor between Berlin and the British zone.

The false report, presumably based on information from pilots, first came from Frankfurt and was quickly questioned by American air authorities here.

The scare apparently was touched off by a routine warning to pilots at Frankfurt's Rhine-Main airfield.

The flight high and avoided the barrage at Döle, 75 miles west of Berlin. The warning, new to American and British pilots, apparently was based on a routine Russian report that the old balloon should be avoided in flights to Berlin.

Barrage rumors reached air headquarters at Wiesbaden, where a spokesman for Lt. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay said he knew nothing about the scare.

A few minutes later the air force public information office at Frankfurt told newsmen balloons were reported over Döle and a warning was going out in a few minutes.

A half hour later the barrage was over.

Arkansas Crop Situation Is Generally Favorable

By United Press

Arkansas' crop situation is generally favorable although varying greatly in various sections, the weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin said today.

Flooded streams and water standing in low areas has caused some damage in Northeast Arkansas, rains have handicapped field work in central, northern and eastern counties while most of south Arkansas is in need of rain.

The report said that cotton prospects continue favorable on the whole and that rice is making good growth.

Early planted soy beans are making a fine early growth and corn prospects are very good, except in the dry southern counties.

Lespedeza is making an excellent growth except in the southern section.

Digging of commercial potatoes is nearing completion.

Promises of Candidates Are Nothing New

By JIM THOMASSON AND SAM HARRIS

Little Rock, June 30 (AP)—The range of platform disagreements among Arkansas' gubernatorial candidates is scarcely discernible.

But, roads and schools — political battle cries of many a yesterday — once more are the main vehicles of which the candidates are riding toward the battle of ballots.

Even on those issues, only one major note of contention has crept into the contest — new bonds versus old bonds.

Excited U. S. Air Force officials, suspecting a threat to the air lifeline to Berlin, found a supposed mass of obstacles was just an old balloon that has flown a long time over the corridor between Berlin and the British zone.

Candidates Attend All Meetings

By BOB BROWN

Little Rock, June 30 (UP)—Beauty contests, pie suppers and the withdrawal of one candidate were elements in today's version of Arkansas' over-crowded gubernatorial race.

Bob Ed Loftin of Fort Smith withdrew as a candidate for governor, throwing his support to his fellow veteran, Sid McMath of Hot Springs. Several contestants announced intentions of attending the "Miss Arkansas" contest at new port today and tomorrow and James (Uncle Mac) MacKrell announced that the American Legion of the Arkansas Education Association proposed school consolidation measure, promises "you will keep your country schools during the years you employ me." On the other hand, Merritt believes that the consolidation act which the AEA is initiating for a vote in November general election, will be defeated.

U. S. Considers Financial Deal With Tito

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, June 30 (AP)—The United States and Yugoslavia were reported near final agreement today on a financial deal which would net Marshal Tito's government about $30,000,000.

The extended negotiations over this money accord may have been one of the issues that set off the Communist blast Monday against the Belgrade chief.

For several months the United States government has been seeking payment of about $20,000,000 in claims for American property nationalized in Yugoslavia. Tito, on the other hand, has been laying claim to some $50,000 in Yugoslav assets which the United States froze in 1941 to keep it out of Tito's hands.

The counter claims have been informants said, with Yugoslavia using the talks as a basis for bitter denunciation of the United States.

About a month ago, however, the Yugoslavs appeared anxious to reach a reasonable settlement on the nationalized property. They reportedly proposed a figure somewhere near the $20,000,000 asked by the United States.

The American government, in turn, appeared ready to unfreeze the $50,000,000 in Yugoslav funds as its part of the two-way arrangement.

The reported financial deal evidently has not been directly influenced by Tito's sensational split with Communist leader.

But it does tie in with growing speculation here that if he finds himself in an impossible spot with his Russian allies, he may turn to actively to the Western powers for help.

State department officials awaited a first-hand report in the next day or so from Cavendish Canon, U. S. ambassador to Yugoslavia, who is en route home for consultation.

Delegates of State to Be Uninstructed

Little Rock, June 30 (AP)—Arkansas' 22 delegates will go to the Democratic national convention uninstructed, and decision as to imposition of the unit rule will be left up to a pre-convention caucus of the delegates in Philadelphia.

The Democratic state committee, meeting here today, unanimously adopted a resolution to send the Arkansas delegation to the convention uninstructed as for traditional.

The unit rule was not brought up except in discussion of action to give alternates an equal voice with delegates in delegation caucuses.

Scot Taylor of Little Rock who offered the motion as a move of giving alternates a voice in delegation affairs, withdrew it when it was suggested that adoption of the motion might in effect limit unit rule.

Unit rule would bind the delegation to vote unanimously as directed by a majority vote of the delegation.

Committee Secretary Ervey G. Combs announced that the signature of the state delegation would cost $20 a day for two, and that the majority of a delegation would leave Little Rock at 11:50 p. m. July 8, arriving in Philadelphia at noon July 9.

A resolution offered by Leo P. Maughlin of Hot Springs suggested that the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce be invited to send literature and other material to the Arkansas exhibit at the convention.

State Senator Jerry Seretion of Hazen suggested that some of the "frozen" funds collected at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner be used to finance the state exhibit.

The money has been withheld from the national Democratic committee since the civil rights issue flared into a fight. Secretary Combs told the committee it was up to the delegates to make no decision on disposition of that money should be made "until after the convention."

Clyde Randall, Fort Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Allen, Bismarck, A. J. B. Pouchant, St. Louis, W. H. Silvan Springs, and Jack Gwin, Sheridan, were named alternates to fill vacancies on the state's delegation.

Mrs. Carroll Johnston of Morrilton, committee vice-chairman, who was elevated to chairmanship by recent resignation of Arthur Adams of Jonesboro, presided.

Death Toll in Japan May Reach 5,000

Fukui, Japan, June 30 (UP)—Workmen, toiling in the steaming summer sun, searched today for additional victims of Monday's earthquake and fire that is expected to claim 5,000 dead.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters officially listed the death toll at 3,215 and the injured at 7,752 in Fukui city and neighboring villages. Most Japanese and Allied authorities believed the number of seriously injured would be more than 10,000.

American medical officers worked in candlelight all night.

Scot Taylor of Little Rock who offered the motion as a move of giving alternates a voice in delegation affairs, withdrew it when it was suggested that adoption of the motion might in effect limit unit rule.

Unit rule would bind the delegation to vote unanimously as directed by a majority vote of the delegation.

Committee Secretary Ervey G. Combs announced that the signature of the state delegation would cost $20 a day for two, and that the majority of a delegation would leave Little Rock at 11:50 p. m. July 8, arriving in Philadelphia at noon July 9.

A resolution offered by Leo P. Maughlin of Hot Springs suggested that the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce be invited to send literature and other material to the Arkansas exhibit at the convention.

The money has been withheld from the national Democratic committee since the civil rights issue flared into a fight. Secretary Combs told the committee it was up to the delegates to make no decision on disposition of that money should be made "until after the convention."

Clyde Randall, Fort Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Allen, Bismarck, A. J. B. Pouchant, St. Louis, W. H. Silvan Springs, and Jack Gwin, Sheridan, were named alternates to fill vacancies on the state's delegation.

Mrs. Carroll Johnston of Morrilton, committee vice-chairman, who was elevated to chairmanship by recent resignation of Arthur Adams of Jonesboro, presided.

Death Toll in Japan May Reach 5,000

Fukui, Japan, June 30 (UP)—Workmen, toiling in the steaming summer sun, searched today for additional victims of Monday's earthquake and fire that is expected to claim 5,000 dead.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters officially listed the death toll at 3,215 and the injured at 7,752 in Fukui city and neighboring villages. Most Japanese and Allied authorities believed the number of seriously injured would be more than 10,000.

American medical officers worked in candlelight all night.

Delegates of State to Be Uninstructed

Little Rock, June 30 (AP)—Arkansas' 22 delegates will go to the Democratic national convention uninstructed, and decision as to imposition of the unit rule will be left up to a pre-convention caucus of the delegates in Philadelphia.

The Democratic state committee, meeting here today, unanimously adopted a resolution to send the Arkansas delegation to the convention uninstructed as for traditional.

The unit rule was not brought up except in discussion of action to give alternates an equal voice with delegates in delegation caucuses.

Scot Taylor of Little Rock who offered the motion as a move of giving alternates a voice in delegation affairs, withdrew it when it was suggested that adoption of the motion might in effect limit unit rule.

Atkins Takes Part in State Conference

Little Rock, June 29—(AP)—Early primary elections in Arkansas apparently are not favored by members of the state Democratic committee, but the group today unanimously adopted a resolution expressing that the 1949 legislature make such a change.

At the meeting of the committee held here to complete final details for the national convention, a resolution was offered suggesting the primary dates be moved up to 1949 to permit popular election of national convention delegates.

Atkins of Hope told the committee that if it was adopted, "I don't know whether it would be any more than a resolution from a ladies aid society."

He said he had no objection to popular election of delegates if any one could be found willing to run. He added that if the primary dates were advanced, "the farmers would be busy, the weather bad, and you couldn't get a crowd."

State Senator Jerry Screeton of Hazen commented that holding primary elections would lengthen the term of "lame-duck" office holders to nearly three fourths of a year.

He said I'm going to vote for the resolution. I don't want to be misquoted—I'm going to vote for the resolution but that will be my position if the matter comes up in the legislature."

Other members, without taking the floor, expressed similar sentiments in comments among themselves.

When Mrs. Carol Johnston of Morrilton put the question, the resolution was adopted without a single dissenting vote.

Red Barrage

istry was questioned by Berlin officials, who then reported it was the same old balloon of which the Russian had warned the western powers.

There were a lot of red faces in the Frankfurt air command.

The balloon scare developed soon after the Soviet command and the official Russian press in Germany had made cracks about the food ferry efforts from the west.

The Russian press published a suggestion that the food planes were carrying loot out of Berlin on their return trips. The Russian high command expressed a hope "that flying regulations would be observed."

American air officials stoutly denied the Russian charge of plundering. They said most planes of the big freight fleet were returning to western Germany empty.

Those returning, loaded, they said, carried passengers and household furnishings belonging to Americans leaving Berlin on transfers into the U. S. occupation zone of going home to the United States.

During recent speculation on use of balloons Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander in Europe, was asked what he would do if he had obstacles.

"We'd deal with them as during a war," he replied. This presumably meant they would be shot down.

This was the second time in recent weeks that the old balloon, a relic of the war, had touched off a fire in air force circles.

"Home rule" is another point on which several of the candidates are in agreement. MacKrell promises home rule "in your county and without any interference from Little Rock, and I will do my best to protect from interference out of Washington."

Merritt summed up his position thereon by saying "we must begin to listen to the source of all strength—the people."

Lonsdale proposed home rule with local authority to approve racing, gambling, and open bars.

MacKrell said that state government "should not impose its will upon the people of a local community any more than the federal government should interfere with the affairs of the state."

Thompson endorsed home rule in one of his campaign speeches.

"solve our school problem."

A new issue this year is civil rights. It stems from the national situation and is not so much a state matter.

Disagreeing with his contemporaries, Holt is branding the civil rights question the most important issue in the campaign. He is "diametrically opposed to every phase of the civil rights bill as it is now drawn up." All other candidates also oppose the civil rights bill but only Merritt is also making it a major plank.

Thompson and MacMath opposed the civil rights bill on the ground that it was unconstitutional. But they apparently give it no great weight as a campaign issue.

The pension issue has been given considerable attention. Thompson wants to increase old age pension payments by economical administration; MacMath proposes to increase them to the national average of $37.42 monthly; Holt set a minimum monthly old age pension of $40 a month; Merritt proposed payments of $50 a month and Lonsdale $50 for every body over 60. MacKrell said merely that "there isn't a human being in the state that will do more for old folks and our six folks than I will."

Merritt, Thompson and Holt proposed additional facilities and higher academic standard for the A. M. & N. College for Negroes at Little Rock.

The judge then instructed Clerk Joseph A. Duwan to read the sentence.

Best took the sentence calmly.

Attorneys reported Best already was preparing an appeal to the circuit court of appeals.

The thin, partly bald minister's son was convicted April 16, his 52nd birthday. During his 14-day trial, he readily admitted making 300 broadcasts from Germany between 1942 and 1945. He insisted his motive was to fight bolshevism and communism.

Judge Ford a year ago sentenced Douglas Chmider, who also broadcast for the Nazi, to life imprisonment.

Chandler now is in the federal correctional institution in Danbury, Conn. His appeal is pending in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Best is a native of Sumter, S. C. A college graduate and a veteran of World War I, he was given a Pulitzer prize by Columbia University for travel and study in Europe more than 25 years ago. When World War II broke out, he decided to remain in Germany.

The government alleged 12 overt acts of treason. It charged Best voluntarily committed acts which gave aid and comfort to the enemy of this country and that he intended to betray the United States.

Arab Kings Pledge Fight to the End

Cairo, June 30—(AP)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia pledged themselves today to a finish fight for "complete Arab independence and control" in Palestine.

A communique issued simultaneously by the two monarchs and their cabinets declared Abdullah and Ibn Saud "are in complete agreement regarding Arab national aspirations."

The communique was issued in Riyadh, capital of Saudi Arabia, and made public at Arab League headquarters here.

Abdullah and Ibn Saud, the communique said, base their unity on two principles: "Worship of God and the defense of our existence."

"We are in complete agreement support of the Arab League," the royal communique said, "and all its decisions made within the provisions of its charter and the limits of its responsibilities x x x."

Fawzi Mulk Pasha, Trans-Jordan's foreign minister, declared, meanwhile, that Count Folke Bernadotte's proposals for a Palestine settlement between Arabs and Jews are "hellish."

An Arab League Political committee session is scheduled for tonight to discuss the proposals further. They have not been made public.

"We floated all day and all that night. All Monday and Monday night. We kept together, shouting encouragement to each other until we were too hoarse under that sun. We were still together yesterday morning."

"We could see an island in the distance and some of the others started to swim for it. That was the last we saw of them. They sank."

Big fish, presumably sharks, approached and killed them and even nibbled at the life preservers and wreckage, Sanders said. The women had been given the preservers while the men grabbed what they could.

Sanders, a barber, and Mrs. William Potts, wife of a truck driver, were found alive but badly burned by flames and sun on a small raft off the coast. A fishing guide later named the body of Mrs. Ted Hill floating near the same spot. All members of the party were from Ocala.

The coast guard said the explosion occurred about 3:20 a. m. Sunday near Schorse reef light. The party, believed to be made up of eight couples, had sailed from the fishing village of Yankeetown earlier in the day.

The survivors were too weak to give full details of the disaster, but Sanders recalled how Mrs. Hill hung to her preserver until Tuesday morning, then said "I can't hold any longer" and slipped from it.

Others presumably went the same way, but Sanders had hope that Salem Musleh, Jr., 23, and Miss Ellen Virginia Counts, 22, might have reached an island they passed.

The missing included Mrs. Sanders, William Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peters, Ted Hill, a Mr. and Mrs. Mays and a fishing guide. Ocala police said two other couples were also aboard.

The former state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars explained early in his campaign that he was in the race only to help veterans and added today that majority of the veterans I have met want for Sid or for me and I don't want to create a division in the group."

McMath's headquarters quickly welcomed Lonsdale's support, but pointed out that the Hot Springs prosecutor "is not running as a veterans candidate but as a representative of all people interested in a better Arkansas."

Lonsdale's name will appear on the July 27th ballot as it was certified by Secretary Combs on June 23rd as required by law.

Several candidates were scheduled to appear at the Newport beauty pageant although the Newport Arkansas' most beautiful girl will be the chief business of the gala two-day affair.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, June 30—(AP)—The stock market gained momentum after a lumbering start today and oils and rails led a general advance.

A mid-afternoon flurry of activity managed to save the market from being tagged the slowest in recent weeks, but barely boosted the volume over yesterday's figures.

The gains were steady through the session with only a few issues making more than narrow advances.

Plymouth, Gulf Seaboard, the oils with gains of between 2 and 3 points and Union Pacific and Nickel Plate sparked the arrier group with five-point or better advances.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, June 30—(AP)—Grain futures were firm during most of the board of trade session today. Higher government parity figures, lack of country offerings of corn and reports of spring wheat damage in Canada were factors in the firm market.

Corn showed more strength than other grains. There were no reports of corn banded to arrive from the country overnight.

There were reports of lifting of hedges in wheat against additional export sales of flour to Norway and Holland. There also were expectations of further export flour sales to Belgium, India and Italy later in the week.

Wheat closed 3-8 59 1 1-8 cent higher than the previous finish. July $2.32 1-8, corn was 1-4 down to 1-5 8 up, July $2.21 7-8 - $2.22 18; and oats were 18 off to 58 up, July 92 38 - 1-2. Soybeans closed 2 to 2 3-4 higher, July $4.17.

U. S. Not to Sell Goods to Some Areas

Washington, June 30—(AP)—ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman said today American aid may be shut off from any Marshall plan country which sends war-potential goods into Soviet bloc countries. He made the statement at a news conference where the question of British sale of jet plane engines to Russia was raised.

The economic cooperation administrator said certainly any sale of war-potential goods to Soviet bloc countries will be considered cause for discussions looking to a possible shutdown of American aid.

Hoffman emphasized this policy would apply not only to American-made recovery goods financed with ECA dollars, but to products produced by the 16 Marshall plan countries themselves.

This represented a broadening of U. S. policy on the issue of "contraband" shipments into the Russian sphere. Previously ECA has stated it would shut off aid if Marshall plan shipments were delivered to Russia.

Hoffman referred specifically to jet plane engines. Britain already has sold some to Russia and has announced her intention of negotiating a broad trade agreement with Moscow. Emphasizing that even European-made war material would come under ECA's ban, Hoffman said: "A jet engine is still a jet engine whether it comes from this country or a participating country."

He indicated the Commerce Department's list of goods which may not be shipped from this country to areas behind the iron curtain would serve as ECA's guide in determining "contraband."

The meeting with reporters marked the end of ECA's first quarter of operations. Hoffman declared that the recovery program now is "really under way," with its appropriation in hand and agreements being signed by the participating countries.

The agency closed its first quarter with $751,000,000 set aside for European recovery shipments.

The club decided to bring birthday gifts for Mrs. Arl Fincher and Mrs. Gentry in July instead of December so that it won't interfere with the Christmas party. Mrs. Hugh Laster and Mrs. George Crews received gifts this month.
A pie supper and candidate speaking were planned for the near future. A definite date will be announced later.
Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. P. H. Miles who was assisted by Mrs. Joe England. The next meeting will be July 27 at the Community Building.

Bitter Reprieve

THE STORY: Playboy Marcus Sterling owes Harry "Bindle" $10,000 he cannot pay. His wealthy wife, Miriam, has refused him the money. He comes home late after a long day. Miriam is waiting for him. He is over at the bank to collect. Miriam is desperate. Miriam comes in, wearing her fabulous diamond necklace. In order to get her out of the library before Bindle arrives, Miriam gives her a doped drink. Keyed up, he speaks crudely. Miriam, wounded, takes her drink to her room. At 11 sharp, Marcus opens the door to Bindle.

"Well, you see, I got here on the dot," Bindle says to you waiting. You knew just when to open the door." Bindle's voice was throaty, his words chopped. He appraised the elegance of the entrance hall with a quick, impermanent sweep of his small black eyes. Sterling glanced up, his face toward the doorway while Bindle spoke, then turned to face his guest. He spoke just above a whisper. "I'd rather my wife upstairs didn't hear us talking. That's why I opened the door. I didn't want her to hear the doorbell."

Bindle shrugged with an exaggerated hunching of his bulky shoulders, adding a grinning smirk. "Sure, that's okay. My clumsy effort to lower his voice was only mildly successful."

"You hat and coat?" Sterling suggested, reaching out.

Both of Bindle's hands were deep in the side pockets of his coat. He fished his left hand and tossed his hat to a nearby pedestal. "I keep the coat," he said. "I shouldn't be long." He followed Sterling along the hall and into the library.

Again Bindle took sweeping inventory. He frowned at the large room. Its monotone of news announcements just barely audible. Sterling went to the radio. It turned it up so that the announcer's voice became clear. "While the Nazi hordes moved in through Belgium, President Roosevelt appeared before Congress this afternoon and asked for more than a billion dollars for arms to make that country impregnable," said the voice.

"Just to draw out our own voices?" Sterling said. "It won't bother us if we sit over here." He led the way across the room to where he had been sitting, indicated a chair beside a low coffee table for Bindle.

"Why should it bother us?" Bindle said, walking toward the chair with withheld decision. "We ain't much to say to each other. You know why I'm here." He remained standing, his eyes riveted on Sterling.

Sterling turned about toward the chair. "Drink, Bindle?"

"Well, why not? Your liquor should be good."

Sterling grinned mischievously. "Rye, scotch or bourbon?"

"Make it rye."

From the bar Sterling asked, "Will it be soda or gingerale?"

"It it's all the same to you, I'll

Slim-Lined Togs Subtract Pounds

In the above pictures, the same model is posed in the "wrong" and "right" choices of clothes to prove that new look fashions can make a woman appear plump or slim and older or younger than her years. Note how much more slender and younger the model looks when she changed the hip-draped dress and wide-brimmed hat, left, for the slim-fitted halter dress and upswept profile hat, right.

Film 'Lula Belle' Banned in Memphis

Memphis, Tenn., June 30 —(UP)—The motion picture, "Lula Belle," was banned today by the Memphis Board of Censors.
Chairman Lloyd T. Buford said the movie, starring Dorothy Lamour, "is a sensual performance catering to the lowest impulses of its audiences."
"The picture," he added, "is a narration of sordid incidents in the lives of sordid people thrown into contact by chance, lust and concurrent returns of questionable characters with the fatal weakness of presenting no morally decent characters to whom an audience sympathically might flow."
The board has banned several movies in the past, among them "The Outlaw" and "Dillinger."

All Signs Point to Definite Break at a Strategic Point in Bolshevik Western Front

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The alleged defection of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito and his capture from the Red haws of the Moscow Kremlin still is surrounded with mystery, but this much is clear:
There is a break at a strategic point in the Bolshevik Western front.
This is the first serious setback of the kind which Russia has encountered among its slave states. The London Times, in an editorial headed "Tito Called to Order," says: "Nothing so apparently unlikely has happened for a long time, and nothing so destructive of Communist unity since the expulsion of Trotsky by the Bolsheviks."
We of course, shouldn't jump to the conclusion that communism is on the verge of collapse. However, we are entitled to join in a hopeful smile along with the burners of midnight oil in the harassed chancelleries of the Western Democracies.
We have had a demonstration that the Bolsheviks' main line is vulnerable. That's the big news of the development. And your columnist was much interested to see the Yugoslav explosion come at a moment when he was telling you he believed communism would blow up in due course. We may never day see "one world," but it never will be the Communist conception of a global federation of nations which have been shown of all sovereignty and are ruled with an iron hand from Moscow.
The Yugoslav Communist party last night showed its independence and defied the storm by rejecting the charges of the Moscow dominion of Tito and his followers. European observers reported that the country appeared headed for a showdown with mighty Russia over the question of Tito's leadership.
At the same time various unconfirmed reports (discounted in Bol grade dispatches) were going the rounds of Europe. One was that Tito was taking place inside Yugoslavia. Another had it that the Soviet troops were moving toward the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade. It was a tense moment.

This Tito debate certainly isn't calculated to strengthen the Bolshevik head in their effort to achieve a political coup in Germany by a food blockade which threatens some 2,000,000 Germans in the American-British-French zone of Berlin with hunger, if not starvation. General Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor, leveled this piece of desperate cruelty yesterday with the declaration that if the Russians persist in their blockade it will "constitute an act of ruthless inhumanity unparalleled in the history of the world."

A good many people are asking whether this atrocity is likely to result in war. I don't think so. As General Robertson says, the situation in Berlin is grave. "Grave not only for the people of Germany, it is grave for the people of the world." However, there are no indications that the Moscowites intend to push the matter to the point of war.

The three democracies are facing the issue with firmness and determination, though without rashness. They are reported to be planning tough diplomatic moves to force Moscow's hand. They also are discussing the question of the United Nations being asked to take a hand, but decided that further efforts should be made to settle the struggle by direct negotiations between the big four before calling in the peace organization. However, the Berlin city council asked the U.N. to intervene.

Moscow, Britain in joining America in trying to break the food blockade by intensive flying of foodstuffs to Berlin. The "vicious" situation presents a picture which Moscow could take no pride in having framed for exhibition to future Russian generations in the national art gallery.

Packing Company Worker Admits Part in Robbery

St. Louis, June 29 —(UP)—Paul J. Lind, messenger for the Krey Packing Co. here who reported he was held up of cash and checks totaling $870.04, today admitted implication in the robbery.
Police Capt. John A. Buck said Lindy admitted his story of the holdup was false and implicated a taxicab company official, Joseph Costello, as his associate.

Costello, a former night club operator here, is a business associate of Leo Brothman, notorious ex-convict. He was taken into custody aboard a cabin cruiser on the Mississippi river and brought to the Penrose street police station where he witnessed Lindy's signed confession.

Lindy reported to police yesterday he was held up at 11th and Madison streets by two Negroes who drove off with his satchel containing $8,000 in cash and $602.84 in company checks. The checks were recovered when the satchel was found half an hour later on a highway between Venice and Lovejoy, Ill., but the cash was not found.

Heber Springs Vet New Head of State VFW

Fort Smith, June 30 —(UP)—A World War One veteran, Bill Griffin of Heber Springs, is new commander of the Arkansas department, Veterans of Foreign Wars.
He was elected at the closing session of the department's annual convention here late yesterday. Griffin succeeds George Freeman of Ozark.

Before adjourning the convention adopted a resolution proposing bonus payments of up to $1,500 for World War Two veterans. Payments of $3 a day for home service with a maximum of $3,500 and $4 a day for overseas service with a maximum of $4,500 plus $500 for wounds suffered in combat were urged.

The organization chose Little Rock for its 1949 convention.

Daughter Decides to Live With Aunt and Uncle

Chicago, June 29 —(UP)—Jean Ann Hickman, 11-year-old high school sophomore, given a choice of living with her aunt and uncle or with her ailing father, decided against her father.
The retrained, freckle-faced girl looked in court yesterday as she told Judge Harry M. Fisher of her decision to continue to live with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Ernst of Suburban Evanston.
Her father, Karl R. Hickman, 53, a civilian army engineer, is incurably ill with cancer. His attorney pleaded he should have the custody of Jean and her sister, Dorothy, 15, in his final days.
"It is unfortunate," Judge Fisher said after Jean Ann announced her decision, "that this child's ailing father should not have the comfort of his child in his last moments, but a child 14 years old has the right to choose its own guardian."
Hickman had brought a habeas corpus proceeding against the Ernst couple, with whom his two daughters have been living since June 14.

DOROTHY DIX Spoiled Children

Dear Miss Dix: We are a well-to-do family with four children. Three boys, 10, 8 and 5 years old and a girl of 4. These youngsters are beyond my control and I can do absolutely nothing with them. They fight amongst each other. They talk back to me, and pay no attention to anything I say to them. Whipping does no good and I am becoming a nervous wreck. My children are good-looking and healthy and appear to be normal, but they are such little hellions they are making my life unbearable. What is your advice?

A MOTHER IN DISTRESS
Answer: Any woman who admits that children as young as yours are beyond her control should ask herself whether she has used any system or intelligence or firmness in rearing them.

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Some people make themselves miserable worrying about catching diseases. This is particularly true of some of those who read a good deal about various diseases. Physicians are not exempt from this kind of worry; one famous physician-scientist remarked that while studying medicine he imagined he had contracted his own disease except housemaid's knee!

There is a lot of difference between being afraid of getting every disease in the medical books and knowing that such diseases exist. Avoidance of careless exposure to germs is good. Also it is good to recognize serious symptoms early so that the disease responsible can get prompt treatment. Constant fear and worry about getting sick, however, does not accomplish anything worthwhile.

Nature Heals
One should not forget that nature is a great healer. Most people who become sick, even with serious conditions, recover entirely. Others who fall ill progress to a stage where the disease from which they suffered has been conquered even though some bad effects may remain. Still others may even suffer serious effects such as the loss of a limb from disease or injury and yet be able to resume reasonably active and useful lives.

Another thing people should remember about the many diseases and injuries which may afflict mankind is, even though people could get a great many diseases they never do. The chances are that the average person will encounter only a few of the serious conditions described in the books.

The constant fear that one might catch plague, cholera, yellow fever, tuberculosis, or whatnot is far worse than the actual danger to which one is exposed. The people who are always anxious and quiver with fear, without a single precaution, and then take their chances without a word of worry. The worrier becomes what is known as a neurotic. The proper point of view is to take is to use reasonable caution, without constant anxiety.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

QUESTION: What causes a burning sensation in the mouth after eating? It makes no difference what the food is.
ANSWER: This is difficult to explain but the cause might be some particular sensitivity of the mucous membrane inside the mouth. Also there could be some infection or disease of the gum or tongue.

Energy given off by the sun is estimated to be the equivalent of 5,000,000,000 atomic bombs per second.

If not, you have spoiled your children from the time they were born. You have never taught them to respect laws, and that is the reason that they defy you and behave like little savages.

The best thing that you can do now is to get a woman who is a trained nurse for children to come and take charge of them for a couple of months. Turn them over to her completely and she will give them the discipline that you have been too weak to give them, and that they will take from her without question because she is a stranger. And don't interfere with her methods in any respect. Don't let the children appeal to you.

It would be a fine thing for you to go away from home while this reformation is in progress. But if you can't do that, at least give the woman a free hand. And don't undo her work as soon as it is done.

Dear Miss Dix: I am madly in love with my employer, who is twice my age. His wife went out of town for several months and during her absence we had some beautiful times. Now she has returned and I want to tell her about the picture, but the trouble is that I am crazy in love with him and I feel that I just can't give him up. What would you advise me to do?

DISTRACTED GIRL
Answer: I should not advise you to drop out of the picture, but to take the lesson it teaches you to heart and henceforth to avoid figuring in any more such amorous affairs.

For can't you see in what an unenviable position it puts you when you are cast aside like a toy of which he is tired? Your married lover amused himself with you while his wife was away and now that she has returned he wants to get rid of you. And it is nothing to him that he has won your love and that he leaves you with a hurt heart and a damaged reputation.

Of course, there is nothing you can do about it. When a man shows a woman the door, all she can do is to make as good an exit as she can. For a girl to have an affair with a married man is always playing with fire, and nearly always she gets burned, which is perhaps no more than she deserves, but she suffers all the same. So in the future avoid the married philanderer as you would a serpent.

Dear Miss Dix: Is it right to share your griefs and troubles with your friends? I have tried so hard to keep my sorrow to myself, but it seems I cannot any longer. I have always had my worries, but if I could just talk a little about them I know it would help me.

UNHAPPY WOMAN
Answer: It is the high privilege of friendship for it to help bear your burdens and share in your grief, so do not hesitate to go with your sorrows to those who love you. Of course, each heart knows its own bitterness, but there is solace for all of that in talking over your troubles with your friends and knowing that they sympathize with you.

Memphis Keeps Up Pace as 'Hottest' Team
By The Associated Press
The Memphis Chicks, the hottest team in the Southern Association during the month of June, edged the league leading Nashville Vols last night, 3-2, on Fred Hancock's tremendous home run and Chick Eismann's seven-hit hurling.

The Chicks now have an 18-10 record for the month as compared with Nashville's 16-13 and Mobile's 16-14. However, if only the second scores in those nine games had been reversed, Memphis would be leading the league by three full games.

Mobile beat Atlanta, 11-11, with 20 hits off three hurlers. Little Rock came from behind to down Chattanooga, 9-7, and New Orleans beat Birmingham, 5-1.

Hancock's home run came in the seventh to break a 2-2 tie, and, on election days, gave him scored twice in the first of the fourth and Nashville counted once in the last of that frame. Eismann fanned 10 in getting his eighth victory of the year.

Chattanooga took a 3-3 lead with five runs in the last of the third and held it until the ninth when the Braves scored three times. They had a total of 15 hits off four pitchers with Joe Erazut getting four.

Memphis Keeps Up Pace as 'Hottest' Team
By The Associated Press
The Memphis Chicks, the hottest team in the Southern Association during the month of June, edged the league leading Nashville Vols last night, 3-2, on Fred Hancock's tremendous home run and Chick Eismann's seven-hit hurling.

The Chicks now have an 18-10 record for the month as compared with Nashville's 16-13 and Mobile's 16-14. However, if only the second scores in those nine games had been reversed, Memphis would be leading the league by three full games.

Mobile beat Atlanta, 11-11, with 20 hits off three hurlers. Little Rock came from behind to down Chattanooga, 9-7, and New Orleans beat Birmingham, 5-1.

Hancock's home run came in the seventh to break a 2-2 tie, and, on election days, gave him scored twice in the first of the fourth and Nashville counted once in the last of that frame. Eismann fanned 10 in getting his eighth victory of the year.

Chattanooga took a 3-3 lead with five runs in the last of the third and held it until the ninth when the Braves scored three times. They had a total of 15 hits off four pitchers with Joe Erazut getting four.

Games tonight: Little Rock at Chattanooga, Atlanta at Mobile, Memphis at Nashville, Birmingham at New Orleans

Youth Gets 35 Years for Killing a Policeman

New York, June 29 —(UP)—Hugh Coughlin, 22, a hoodlum since kindergarten days, was sentenced today to 35 years in prison for the murder of a New York policeman. Coughlin pleaded with the judge to sentence him to death.

"I'd rather die in the electric chair than to rot in jail," he said.

Probationary reports showed Coughlin had been a "bad actor" since he was four years old when he yanked the pigtail of little girls in school and tried to set fire to "smalls" tails.

At 16 he was sentenced to a prison term for assault after six attempted rapes.

Last March two policemen chased Coughlin into a darkened area where Coughlin shot and killed one of the officers.

Same Gun Was Used to Kill Couple

Oregon, Ill., June 30 —(UP)—Ballistics tests showed today that the same gun killed an attractive, 10-year-old telephone operator and her date in a lover's lane double murder last week.

The body of Mary Jane Reed, clad in a red dress, was shot in the brain, was found yesterday only two miles from the spot where the body of Stanley Skridla, 28, a telephone line repairman, was slain last Thursday.

Tests showed they both were killed by the same .32 caliber pistol.

Miss Reed's brother, Donald, told authorities that several weeks ago his sister told him:

"You know the fellow who brought me home had a .32 caliber pistol. He said he keeps it in the glove compartment of the car for protection."

Reed said he thought nothing of the remark at the time and did not know the man to whom his sister was referring. But he and other members of the family searched their memories in an attempt to recall the man's name or details that would lead to his identity.

Police already had questioned many of Miss Reed's escorts. She was pretty and popular, and had dated many different men.

Sheriff Joseph Maas said he would concentrate on efforts to find the gun that killed the couple.

"If we find it," he said, "we'll trace it to the owner. If we don't find it, we'll check the ownership of every .32 caliber weapon in the county."

Maas said the couple might have been slain by a jealous suitor of Miss Reed. But he said he still was seeking the identity of another couple with whom Skridla and Miss Reed held a long conversation outside a tavern the night of the slaying.

President to Speak at Monument to Washington

Washington, June 30 —(AP)—President Truman will speak Saturday at a ceremony observing the 100th anniversary of the laying of the corner stone of the Washington monument.

The speech will be an extemporaneous one.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Why not because you liked to eat—didn't know what digestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach" and the "ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength to normal levels, and in curing anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice which is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As iron-rich blood courses throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, play better, feel better, work better, sleep better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

Here's Where the Atom Will Be Explored

This is a sketch of the Accelerator Building at the University of Chicago, which is now in construction. The university is one of the centers of atomic research, and this building will be the home of the most advanced atom-splitting machines devised by man.

Riegel Pulls Ahead in Western Meet

Wichita, Kas., June 30 —(AP)—Robert (Skeet) Riegel had the inside track today on the western amateur golf tournament's qualifying medal.

Riegel, national amateur champion from Glendale, Calif., shot a one-under-par 71 yesterday for the first 18 holes of the qualifying test. He had little chance, however, of bettering the tournament record, he needed a 67 on the last 18 holes today to tie the 197 record held by John Lehman of Chicago in 1932 and equaled by Charles Yates of Atlanta in 1937 and again by Earl Stewart of Albuquerque in 1939.

Riegel's most serious contenders for medalist honors were young Lawrence Volser, Oklahoma City, and Eugene Zuppan, the sand green specialist from Goodland, Kas. Each shot an even par 71 yesterday.

The 67-hole Wichita Country Club course, which got its first day of sunshine yesterday in about two weeks, played very long. Only 35 of the 91 starters were able to shoot 73 or better.

Marvin (Bud) Ward, of Spokane, Wash., the 1937 medalist and champion, was well off the first day pace with a 35-38-76. Ward's long irons failed him and he lagged many of his shots on the greens.

Ward, who is after his fourth western championship, won the medal with a 141 in 1941 and again last year. He was co-medalist with Frank Stranahan and Smiley Quirk at the same figure in 1946. Wilford Wehrle, of Louisville, Ky., the 1937 western amateur titlist and George Dawson of Chicago, a former Illinois champion, started the second qualifying round with 73's.

Army Promises 'Fair' Handling of New Draftees

Washington, June 29 —(UP)—Prospective draftees had the army's word for it today that they will be neither "coddled" nor "kicked around" once they get in uniform.

Here, according to Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall, is what men called up under the new 19-through-25 draft law can look forward to:

"A normal, wholesome, busy and active life, though more carefully planned and supervised than he ever imagined."

"Ample, well-cooked, nourishing meals of a simple, wholesome character."

"Reasonably comfortable quarters (but) no luxuries."

"Adequate medical care."

Royall said the 225,000 to 250,000 men expected to be drafted within the next year will be able to choose their branch of service and their assignments "only to a limited degree." Most of the draftees are needed for the army, he said, because the navy and air force are confident they can get along with volunteers.

Royall said one of about 10 minutes at the site of the monument, White House Press Secretary Charles G. Howe, said today. The ceremony will start about 1 p. m. (EST).

The president also will speak for about 10 minutes at Bollman, Md., July 2. This address will be at the dedication of a monument to Simon Bollman, South American liberator.

Tri-Powers Working Out Rule Plan

Frankfurt, Germany, June 30 —(AP)—Top American, British and French occupation authorities worked out a plan here today for creating a new central government for western Germany.

Allied commanders said they would meet with German ministers tomorrow morning to set the plan in motion.

The meeting will be open to both Allied and German newspapermen. This was an indication that complete agreement had been reached on all controversial questions.

The plan for a central government was drawn up recently at an 18-nation meeting in London. The Germans rejected it and met in Poland last week with foreign ministers of other eastern European nations to set up a counter plan.

Gen. Jacob Pierre Koenig, commander of French forces in Germany, was present for today's meeting, which had been postponed several times. French doubts about the plan were said to have caused the postponement.

Meeting with Koenig were Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Sir Brian Robertson, American and British military governors.

Clay was flanked by W. Averell Harriman, reviving ambassador for the European Recovery Program; William H. Draper, U.S. secretary for the army; and Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, the army's director of plans and operations.

Clay told newsmen "we hope to work out today the final plans for a government of western Germany."

Here and There in Arkansas

Little Rock, June 30 —(AP)—James M. Malone, former Lenox county judge who opposed Governor Laney in 1916, will take the stump for gubernatorial candidate Sid McMath in Arkansas Democrat reported today.

The report that Malone, who was considered a potential gubernatorial candidate this year almost until the ticket closed, would support McMath came on the heels of Bob El Loftis' withdrawal from the gubernatorial race in McMath's favor.

McMath's headquarters said Malone was expected to issue a statement soon.

Mountainburg, June 30 —(AP)—Two persons were killed today when a large trailer truck overturned and burned one mile north of here on Mt. Gaylor.

The dead were W. D. McFarland, Kansas City, Mo., and an unidentified white man. McFarland was the driver.

State Police Lt. Loudermilk and E. L. Scudder said the truck overturned on a sharp curve and caught fire. The men were trapped in the cab. The officers said the vehicle was the property of the refrigerator truck lines of Kansas City.

The Van Buren fire department sent a truck which extinguished the fire.

Fayetteville, June 30 —(AP)—The University of Arkansas athletic department announced today the appointment of Presley Askew, Van Buren, as freshman basketball coach.

Askew, an Oklahoma A. & M. student varsity coach, has been a college graduate, also will be as coach at Van Buren high school where his 1946 and 1947 teams were contenders in the state tournaments.

Askew will enter the university as a graduate student next fall to work on his master's degree.

Little Rock, June 30 —(AP)—Sponsors of a proposed municipalities "home rule" amendment to the Arkansas constitution have decided to wait two more years to try to get it over.

Director Glenn Zimmerman of the Arkansas Municipal League said the amendment would not be introduced for a vote in the general election this November despite the fact that more than 18,000 signatures have been obtained.

Sponsors will wait until 1950 to present the measure.

Meanwhile, an educational campaign will be undertaken in an effort to correct "misunderstandings" which have arisen concerning the proposal, Zimmerman said.

Little Rock, June 30 —(AP)—Sid McMath's headquarters announced today the 101 Springs gubernatorial candidate would "present" all details of his highway program Friday at 6:30 p. m., over a statewide radio network.

West Memphis, June 30 —(AP)—The Memphis district office here today said it had awarded contracts for prefabricated concrete mattresses today.

The mattresses will be cast at H. M. Ark. Richardson Landing, Ark., and Chambersville, Mo.

The 100,000-pound mattresses were estimated at $4,000. The contracts for the work at Chambersville and Richardson Landing were for $356,800 and $1,173,760 respectively.

Little Rock, June 30 —(AP)—Work of clearing the four-block area for a new governor's mansion has begun.

Charles L. Baker has been employed to clear the west wing of the old building, which he had at 14th and Center streets.

It will be demolished as the new three-story structure, topped with a cupola, the east wing and several smaller structures.

Helena, June 30 —(AP)—A hand-drawn sketch of a prisoner shot to death by a deputy sheriff near here today was shown to the public.

The sketch was made by a deputy sheriff who was shot and killed by a prisoner.

The deputy was L.D. Weaver, 23, of Helena. The Negro was named Dolph.

Sherriff Ed Hickey gave this account:

Dolph, under arrest and with handcuffs on his wrists, was permitted to enter his combination toilet stall to turn off a light.

He pulled a pistol from a coat hanging on a wall and opened fire.

DIES IN ACCIDENT

Lehi, June 30 —(AP)—George Wallace Nichols, 31-year-old ex-Marine from West Memphis, was injured fatally near here last night when his automobile turned over four times. Three companions escaped with minor cuts.

PLANTER DIES

Memphis, Tenn., June 29 —(AP)—John Theodore Rice, 44, Memphis cotton man, died at his home today. He was born and reared at Van Buren, Ark., and attended the University of Arkansas.

Weaver was struck and in an exchange of shots with Deputy Chy Oliver, Dolph was slain. Oliver was not injured.

The deputies had arrested Dolph on complaint of a planter that the Negro had forced a being called "boy," threatened him with a pistol.

Little Rock, June 29 —(AP)—State police headquarters here said this afternoon it had been informed that both deputy Sheriff L. D. Weaver and the Negro who shot him, had been killed in the shooting near Helena.

The state police said they did not have the names of the persons involved, but that they had been informed that after Weaver was shot, his slayer was killed by another deputy sheriff.

Helena, June 29 —(AP)—L. D. Weaver, 23, Phillips County deputy sheriff, was shot and killed by a Negro man he was attempting to arrest at Lake View 15 miles south of here shortly after noon today, Sheriff Ed Hickey said.

Hickey said Weaver went to Lake View after a planter reported the Negro threatened one of his employees. The sheriff did not identify the slayer, saying he was leaving for Lake View to take charge of the case.

Weaver, a former Helena high school football star, had been a deputy for two years. He was married and had one child.

Two Held for Mailing Obscene Literature

Jacksonville, Fla., June 30 —(UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Waybright, law partners and members of a prominent Florida family were to go on trial here today on charges of mailing "obscene, lascivious, filthy and indecent" matter to a New York couple.

Waybright, 36, and his 34-year-old wife, Thelma, were indicted for the alleged mailing of a scrapbook and album containing obscene writings and pictures to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Chaffee of New York.

The husband was named separately on charges of mailing seven obscene letters to the Chaffees between July 7 and Aug. 23 of last year. The New Yorkers are not involved on the charges, and postal inspectors said that Chaffee reported the case to them.

A "not guilty" plea was entered some time ago, and Edgar Waybright, Sr., former member of the State Senate, wrote the U. S. district attorney a plea for dismissal of the charges. He asked permission to "place Edgar, Jr., and Thelma under the care of doctors."

"We feel," the elder Waybright wrote District Attorney Herbert S. Phillips, "that a trial or judgment of insanity and commitment at this time would be the equivalent or worse than a death sentence because it would mean in all likelihood a mental deterioration form which he would never recover."

Young Waybright was a glider troop captain during the war, and had practiced law here in Piqua, O., his wife's home town. They were married in 1933, and have one son, Edgar, III.
